

AUTHOR PROFILES

Aleksandr Alekseenko is an Associate Professor at the Chair of Commercial Law of Saint-Petersburg University. He is a member of the Association of Lawyers of Russia, member of the Public Council under the Ministry for Development of the Russian Far East and Arctic, and an independent expert accredited to conduct anti-corruption expertise of regulatory legal acts. Dr. Alekseenko received his LL.M. from the Far Eastern Federal University and a Ph.D. in law from the Ural State Law University (Yekaterinburg). He also studied Chinese language at the Linyi Normal University. His expertise covers International Investment Law, Legal Regulation of Digital Financial Assets, Russian Company Law, and Chinese Business Law. Professor Alekseenko is a principal investigator and participant of projects funded from Russian Foundation for Basic Research. He may be contacted at: alekseenko.a.p@gmail.com.

Zhixun Cao (Hector) is a Professor (Research) in Peking University (China). He holds his LL.B., LL.M. and LL.D. from Peking University and is pursuing his second doctoral degree in University of Regensburg (Germany). He was a postdoctoral research fellow at Shanghai Jiaotong University (China). His research interests cover civil procedure, evidence law, dispute resolution, civil and commercial law, comparative law and judicial system. Professor Cao is the author of more than 50 scientific publications in books and journals and was invited as a speaker or a national reporter in conferences in Brazil, Chile, Germany, Japan, Korea, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Peru, Sweden, UK, US, and Mainland and Taiwan of China. Dr. Cao acts as the chief researcher of a project granted by the National Social Science Foundation in China. In 2020, the Department of Education in China awarded him the Higher School Science Research Excellent Achievement Prize (Humanities and Social Science). He may be contacted at: pkuhector@pku.edu.cn.

Dae Un Hong is currently a visiting scholar at Harvard Law School and is teaching as an adjunct professor at Cornell Law School, Hanyang Law School, and the University of North Korean Studies in Korea. He is admitted to practice in Korea and Washington D.C. He holds law degrees from Cornell Law School (LL.M. & J.S.D.) and Northwestern University Pritzker School of Law (LL.M.), in addition to a B.A. in International Relations from Seoul National University and a J.D. from Hanyang Law School. Dr. Hong has published articles in both US and Korean journals, including Environmental Impact Assessment in North Korean Environmental Law in Ecology Law Currents (U.C. Berkeley) and The Enshrinement of Nuclear Statehood in North Korean Law in the University of Illinois Law Review (Online). His primary research interest lies in socialist law, criminal law, and international law. He may be contacted at: dh632@cornell.edu

Ridoan Karim is a Lecturer at the Department of Business Law & Taxation, Monash University, Malaysia. He graduated with Bachelor of Laws (LL.B. (Hons)) from the Brac University, Bangladesh; and Masters of Comparative Laws (MCL) from IIUM, and Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) from University of Malaya, Malaysia. Being a passionate researcher and academic, Ridoan has widely published in peer-reviewed journals and presented papers in several national and international conferences in his areas of interest, that is “legal and regulatory aspects of energy,” “science, technology and law,” “business law” and so on. Ridoan acted as a consultant and fellow in projects funded by the University of Malaya, Malaysia. He may be contacted at: ridoan.karim@monash.edu.

Robayet Ferdous Syed is an Associate Professor of Law at Atish Dipankar University of Science and Technology (ADUST), Dhaka, Bangladesh. He holds LL.B. from the University of Dhaka and LL.M. from University of Ottawa. Currently, he is doing Ph.D. at Monash University under Graduate Research Excellence Scholarship. Mr. Robayet Ferdous Syed is an enrolled advocate of the Supreme Court of Bangladesh. His main research interests include compliance with labour and employment law, corporate law, and so on. He is the author of numerous articles published by Emerald, Springer, SAGE, ADAPT University Press, etc. He may be contacted at: robayet.syed@monash.edu.

Md. Toriqul Islam is a research fellow at the Faculty of Law, University of Malaya, Malaysia. He served as an Assistant Professor and Chairman in the Department of Law and Justice at Bangladesh University of Business and Technology from 2012-17. Mr. Islam completed his Ph.D. in December 2021 on “Data Protection of Law” under the Faculty of Law, University of Malaya and received his LL.B. (Hons) in 2005, and LL.M. in 2006 from Islamic University, Kushtia, Bangladesh. Being a promising researcher, Dr. Toriqul has widely published in peer-reviewed journals and reputed publishers, and presented papers in several national and international conferences in his areas of interest, e.g., data protection law, technology law, public international law, constitutional law, and human rights law. Dr. Islam can be contacted at: toriqul@siswa.um.edu.my.

Dmitry K. Labin is a Professor of International Law at the International Law Department, Moscow State Institute of International Relations attached to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MGIMO-University, Russia), and a member of editorial board of the Moscow Journal of International Law. Professor Labin was awarded a Doctor of Legal Sciences degree by the Russian Academy of Sciences for his post-Ph.D. doctorate dissertation on “The International Law on World Economic Order.” Prior to that he defended his candidate research thesis (Ph.D.) at the Institute of State and Law attached to the Russian Academy of Sciences. He has a Diploma from The Hague Academy of International Law (Research Centre). Professor Labin was a visiting fellow (2013-16) at the University of Central Lancashire (UK) - UCLAN Cyprus with the intensive module on the WTO Law. Professor Labin is the author of many articles published inter alia in the American Journal of International Law and the European Journal of International Law and several text-books on International Economic Law. He may be contacted at: d.labin@inno.mgimo.ru.

Renata R. Muratova is a Ph.D. candidate in international law at the Moscow State Institute of International Relations attached to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MGIMO-University, Russia). She obtained her Bachelor's degree in international relations from Peoples' Friendship University of Russia and Masters' degree in international economic law from MGIMO-University, Russia.

Her research areas include international trade and investment law, and international dispute settlement. She may be contacted at: renata.muratova@hotmail.com.

Wenjun Yan is a lecturer of law at China Foreign Affairs University. He received Ph.D. from China University of Political Science and Law (PRC), and Masters of International Law from Central South University. He was a Visiting Scholar at the Wolfson College, University of Oxford (2017-18) and US-Asia Law Institute, New York University (2012-13). He is the assistant Secretary-General of the Chinese Society of International Law (CSIL), an editor of Journal of International Law, and an editor of the website of Global Health and Global Governance. Professor Yan has published some academic papers on the journals of SSCI, CSSCI and ESCI, like The Journal of World Energy Law & Business, Asia Pacific Law Review, Journal of East Asia and International Law, Chinese Review of International Law and so on. He authored a book named Studies on Problems of State Immunity Referred to Sovereign Debt Default (2020). His research interests include international law, and international relations, international organization law, international humanitarian law and ADR. He may be contacted at: yanwenjun@cfau.edu.cn.

Stuart Malawer holds a Ph.D. from the Dept. of International Relations at the University of Pennsylvania. He has a J.D. from the Cornell Law School and a Diploma from The Hague Academy of International Law (Research Centre). He also studied at the Harvard Law School and St. Peter's College at Oxford University. Professor Malawer was a member of the Virginia Governor's trade missions to China, India, and Japan. Dr. Malawer was awarded the Hardy Cross Dillard Award by the Virginia State Bar, in recognition of serving as Chairman of its International Practice Section and Special Editor of the Virginia Lawyer. Most recently, he published articles on the US-China trade litigation, Trump's trade policies, and cybersecurity. Recent books have included Trump and Trade-Policy and Law (2021), Global Trade and International Law (2012), U.S. National Security Law (2009), and WTO Law, Litigation and Policy (2007). Professor Malawer served as the Director and Founder of the Graduate International Transactions Program at George Mason University (a masters' program in international affairs). He was subsequently named the Distinguished Service Professor of Law & International Trade, as well as the Director of the Oxford Trade Program. This program was held annually in partnership with St. Peter's College at Oxford and Geneva. The GMU Alumni Association named Professor Malawer the Distinguished Faculty Member of the Year. He was a gubernatorial appointee to the Virginia Economic Development Partnership and recently to the Virginia International Trade Committee. He may be contacted at: StuartMalawer@msn.com

Zeyu Huang is practicing law as an associate of Hui Zhong Law Firm based in Shenzhen, China. Mr. Huang holds his LL.B. in Renmin University of China (RUC) Law School and LL.M. in University of Macau. He is also a Ph.D. candidate (expected to graduate in June 2022) in the University of Macau. His main research interest generally covers various areas of international dispute resolution, including international commercial arbitration, investor-state arbitration, and conflict of laws and so on. Mr. Huang regularly publishes articles, book chapters and conference papers in his field of interest. He also taught undergraduate class on private international law (legal practice) in the University of Macau (2017-21). He is one of few PRC attorneys who get involved in representing investors against foreign host states in ICSID arbitration cases. He may be contacted at: huangzeyu@huizhonglaw.com.

Angela Carpi is an Associate Professor of Comparative Private Law at the University of Bologna, where she teaches Comparative Private Law, Law and Business in China, and Legal English. She was awarded a Ph.D. in Comparative Law at the University of Milan. Her research focuses on the EU-China legal cooperation, Alternative Dispute Resolution, legal languages and legal translation. She is visiting professor at the University of La Plata Argentina and at the Insitut de droit comparé, of the University Paris II Panthéon-Assas. She was appointed lecturer at the China-EU Law School of the China University of Political Science and Law (CUPL), Beijing. Professor Carpi is a member of international research groups such as the Jean Monnet Network “EU-China Legal and Judicial Cooperation,” the feasibility study of the University of Bologna on “EU and China towards smart development: strategies and instruments for a legal and economic cooperation.” Angela Carpi is a member of the board of the Ph.D. program in European Law at the University of Bologna. She may be contacted at: angela.carpi@unibo.it.